You must enter all requested information for item 1.

Enter your desired ID and click [check]. The system will make sure your selection is available. Amateur Radio Operators should consider using their call sign.

Enter your desired password using upper and lower case letters, mixed with numbers and watch the "Password strength indicator fill in. Make sure your password causes all four bars to be highlighted. (Write your ID & Password down in a safe location.)

Alternate Email: Enter an email address that you use regularly.

Carefully select your Security Questions. Pick items that only you or your family would know. You can type in your own question. You may want to write down the questions and answers.

Enter the letters and number you see in the image into the "Type the code shown" box. Use the "Try a new code" option if the image generated isn't easy to read. (yprFdVz)

Next to last step: Check this box.

Finally! Click "Create My Account"

Yahoo will send an email to the "Alternate Email" address you entered. You must follow the instructions in the email to finish enabling your Yahoo ID account.
